School Budget Okay

Canyon School Trustees approved a $2,419,000 budget for 1971-72 at a public hearing Tuesday night.

Figure reflects an increase of $143,369 over last year's budget. The school ran into financial difficulty of about $60,000 last year, according to Supt. Jerry Jacobs.

Trustees agreed to keep the $1.65 tax rate for the fourth consecutive year based on a 40 per cent assessed valuation.

Expected expenditures show an increase in administrative salaries of some $10,000, and an $8,600 increase in pupil transportation.

Under capital outlay, a $16,000 expenditure is predicted to pay for lighting the high school football field and developing a city-school park at Gene Howe Elementary School in South Amarillo. The park would be a joint effort between the city of Amarillo and the Canyon school district.

Jacobs said the park project is still in a talking stage with Amarillo, but he budgeted for it in case it developed.

Equipment costs for all schools show a decrease from $76,788 to $44,775.

Jacobs pointed out that the budget reflects a cost per student of $773, an increase of about $150 over the school year 1968-69 school year.

The superintendent also noted that student enrollment has increased only five students this year over last year. A total of 2756 students are on the four Canyon campuses.

"I prefer a gradual increase," Jacobs confirmed. "I think it is a healthy atmosphere for education."

"Helps us get some school bonds paid off," Trustee J.O. Parker commented.

Board members agreed to advise all employees that the school no longer carries property damage insurance for school vehicle drivers.

"We should advise them that we cannot cover them on the school policy," Jacobs recommended. "And that they could contact their insurance agents to get the

Budget Meet Is Monday

A public hearing for the proposed $30,450.00 South Randall County Hospital District budget will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Farm Bureau Building.

Budget expenditures for the 1971-72 fiscal year provides $12,000 in salaries; $5,000 for indigent care; $1,000 legal fees; $2,000 for the contingency fund; $2,000 for bond expense; and $1,200 for payroll expenses.

But the proposed budget would only require around $14,810.00 cash outlay for the first year, according to hospital district administrator Ray Grimes.

"We may not use some of the budgeted money," Grimes declared. "But we have budgeted in case we need it."

He explained about $10,000 of the money shown in the budget should not be paid this year. Included in this would be the $5,000 for indigent care, $3,000 architectural fees, and $2,000 for bond expense.

According to Grimes Neblett Memorial Hospital board has agreed to continue absorbing all usual indigent care as a bad debt, but he said some money should be budgeted in case an unusual situation arises.

The budget figures also includes an election expense of $500 for the election due in April, 1972, and an audit expense of $250.

What Can I Do? asks Ray Basinger, head football coach of Caprock, to his daughter Becky, who is a cheerleader for Canyon

High School. The two teams meet Friday night in their annual clash, and the Basinger family has divided loyalties.

In Caprock-Eagle Game

Father, Daughter Foes

BY BENNY TURNER

The Canyon High grid-ers have a secret weapon tucked away for their game against the Caprock Longhorns Friday.

The weapon stands about 5-4 and tips the scales at around 100 pounds, but probably swings more weight than the whole Eagle squad.

Her name — Becky Basinger, a cheerleader at Canyon High School and the daughter of Ray Basinger head coach of the Caprock Longhorns.

"No one will even speak to me at home," Basinger said. "They even have the dog so he won't come around me."

Basinger also has a son that attends Canyon Junior High and plays football there.

"We are playing for our third straight win, but if Caprock wins my family will never speak to me again," Basinger lamented. While Dad Basinger stands along the sideline Friday, urging his class AAAA squad on to victory, the rest of the family will be sitting on the Canyon side of the field cheering the Warbirds on.

The only solution that Basinger can hope for is a tie ballgame.

Eagles Eye Caprock

The Canyon Eagles will encounter a wealth of talent Friday as they face the Caprock Longhorns at 8 p.m. in Buffalo Bowl.

The Longhorns, coached by Ray Basinger, have scored 75 points in their two previous games and have rolled up more than 400 yards total offense in both games. Their first team defense has yet to be scored on.

In the opening game of the season the 'Horns rolled over Odessa Ector 34-0, and did not utilize the first string offensive or defensive teams but a very few minutes in the second half.

Last week the Longhorns met El Paso Andress and racked up a 41-7 win over that team.

For the first time this season the Eagles fielded the complete varsity during workouts. In past weeks virus and minor injuries have held quite a number of the Warbirds out of the first two games.

"We have a few boys that have colds and what not from the game we played in the mud last week against Spearman, but it is nothing serious. We should field the

Flooding Occurs In Some Sections

BY MARGO WILLIAMS

Torrential rains dumped water throughout Randall County Tuesday night leaving highways flooded, creeks overflowing and farmland looking like full lakes.

Moisture totaled from .60 inches in the Happy area up to 6 inches in the northwest section of the county.

Two highway accidents on the Canyon Expressway were attributed to water over the highway just north of the city limits.

Texas Highway Department officers and Canyon policemen began a highway and road watch around 4:30 a.m. Wednesday as water raced over the VFW road and covered all four lanes of the Canyon Expressway.

Road block signs were placed on the VFW road stopping traffic, and cars were slowed as they reached the flooded area on U.S. 87.

"We are getting fantastic reports about the amount of rain received," exclaimed Randall County Agent John Brazzil.

Sheriff deputies said Clarence Beckman, west of UMBARGER, reported six inches on his land, and Fred Beger, two miles north of UMBARGER, said he received five inches during the thunderstorm Tuesday.

Buffalo Lake recorded 2.16 inches, and officials said they expected the lake to receive alot of water.

"The creeks are out of their banks and we are expecting alot of water to come in," a spokesman said. He said a true picture of how much water would be known later in the week.

W.A. "Bill" Wilson, east of the city, said he recorded 1.70 inches, and Kenneth Chambers, also east of Canyon, reported 3 inches.

Sheriff office gauge showed 1.50 inches Wednesday morning following the night of heavy rains.

One farmer, east of Canyon near Washington Road, said the creek near Camp Don Harrington had been low at 8 a.m. but by noon it had raised along the bank some three or four feet.

Hunsley Hills golf course was drenched with the flowing water, but developer Arch Hunsley said water was a safe distance from any residence and the new Canyon Creek Apartments.

"The water is on the golf course, just as we designed it," Hunsley reported. "But all home sites are safe from flooding waters."

Two accidents occurred just five minutes apart on the Canyon E-Way around 7:30 a.m. Wednesday. The first involved two cars headed south. No injuries were reported by Highway Patrolmen.

The second accident at 7:35 a.m. involved four cars, all south bound.

"No one was injured in either accident," said a highway patrol officer.

Brazzil said at noon Wednesday he had received no reports of crop damage due to high winds or hail.

"But we do have ample moisture now for crops to mature," he declared.

And he noted the rains (see RAINS, page 8)

Charles C. Graham Services Friday

Charles C. Graham, 59, died Wednesday morning in his home at 509 Holman Lane.

Funeral services will be conducted at 4 p.m. Friday in LaGrone Funeral Chapel with Rev. J. Frank Peery, pastor of the First United Methodist Church officiating.

Burial will follow in Dreamland Cemetery.

Mr. Graham, a longtime resident and businessman in Canyon, was born May 5, 1912 in Mt. Kisco, N.Y. He married Lillian Green on June 27, 1940 in the same city.

Mrs. Graham is a government teacher at Canyon High School.

Mr. Graham was involved in the real estate business, and owned Graham Grocery in Canyon for some 30 years.

The active civic leader was a member of the First United Methodist Church and was a veteran of World War II. He was a member of the Kiwanis Club of Canyon and was a board member at the time of his death. He had served in most offices in the club.

He is survived by his wife of the home, 509 Holman Lane; one son, David a student at Midwestern University; one daughter, Mrs. Gene Richardson of Lubbock, and four sisters.

Highway By-Pass Hearing Tuesday

Recommendations for an I-27 Canyon by-pass route will be made at a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, according to Charles W. Smith, district engineer for the Texas State Highway Department.

Smith said he would recommend construction of one of the five routes proposed by the highway department.

He explained he would announce the "route we feel is the best."

Smith said he would not release the route recommendation until the public hearing, which will be held in the Student Activities Center on the West Texas State campus.

Six men will appear at the hearing to review route costs, advantages of each route, and various environmental conditions for each route.

The five by-pass routes proposed by the highway department will be financed by funds received for an interstate route from Amarillo to Lubbock.

One route would follow

U.S. 87 through 23rd Street in Canyon. Another would leave U.S. 87 about 3.2 miles north of Canyon, head to the east and curve around the city about one mile from the Canyon city limits.

A third would leave U.S. 87 at the same spot, and pass Canyon at the edge of the eastern city limits. A fourth route would by-pass Canyon further east and connect with South Washington.

The only western by-pass proposed would leave U.S. 87 3.2 miles north of the city and curve through the west (see BY-PASS, page 8)

Building Holds History

BY MARGO WILLIAMS

An old concrete brick building stands in crumbling shambles now, but if those bricks could talk the historical stories would live on a fireside chat.

The structure is located in Umbarger, next to the Machine Shop owned by Henry Bracht. And Bracht was the last person to occupy the dilapidated building only eight years ago.

He talks of the bricks saying, "some of the stones are good, some are not. Some they used lots of cement and some very little."

Bracht can only give a limited history of the structure, since he came to Umbarger from Germany in 1928. And he didn't move into the "house of many homes" until 1936, but he developed and grew and prospered in the old building.

The machine shop owner was a farmer in his home country until an Umbarger resident visited in Germany telling of the United States and the community in the Panhandle.

Bracht, then a 31 year old bachelor, decided to move to the "land of hope" and in 1928 became a farmer in the Golden Spread town of Umbarger.

"Farming is what I aimed to do," Bracht recalled. "But after three years I wasn't making any money so I started the machine shop."

He didn't use the building next to his present shop for several years, in fact he set up work in an old building which has since been torn down.

But in 1936 he found a new home for his struggling business, and moved his equipment, his metal, and his heater into the building of untold tales.

"I found a rubber stamp on the floor that showed the building had once been used as a bank," he explained as he pulled the stamp from his desk drawer.

The stamp has no date, but it reads, "Bank of Umbarger, (Unincorporated), Umbarger, Texas."

Bracht places the date of the bank around 1910, but how long the bank existed, or when it finally closed, he isn't certain.

And on the west side of the building a sign proclaims "Day and Night Garage". But Bracht says that is not the only business that has graced the brick interior.

"It has been a grocery store, an implement store, and then my machine shop," he proclaims.

Eight years ago Bracht built a new metal building for his shop. Inside he houses a drill press that he purchased second hand for $120 in 1937.

"It's worth a lot more now," he stressed.

In fact, in those days that $120 seemed like $1,000 to the machine owner.

"I didn't pay for the drill (see HISTORY, page 8)

Henry Bracht works with a drill press he acquired in 1937, and it remains the oldest piece of equipment he has in his Machine Shop in Umbarger. Bracht's present shop is next door to a building that housed a bank, grocery store, garage, and his machine shop during the early days of this century.

FROM THE

CANYON RIM

Suburbia has few racial problems so the federal government is in the process of trying to create some for it.

Canyon will be affected if the Department of Health, Education and Welfare succeeds.

Canyon School System will have to prepare itself to accept Negro and Latin-Americans bused in from Amarillo. HEW must have racially balanced schools. I suppose that if they can't find enough blacks in this country to go around we'll just have to import some from Africa.

The kids being bused in are in real trouble. Imagine yourself a little fellow and at school the first time. I know I was frightened under those circumstances alone and that consternation would have been compounded if I had been transported to a strange community and mixed in with strange people.

Canyon School System will be instructed in the not too distant future to employ some black teachers. I wouldn't be concerned about this if the teachers are qualified but all too often qualifications are secondary to the federal government.

We took federal money and now the federal government is calling the shots. Federal taxes dried up sources of local revenue to the point that in the future almost all the money to operate our school system must come from state and federal sources.

The school board will be a figurehead if it exists at all.

Remember back in the 1940's when wary souls were fighting federal aid to education on grounds that it ultimately would destroy the local school? We were told that all the federal government wanted to do was to insure good schools across the country and that there would be absolutely no federal interference with operation of those schools.

They were to be operated by local school boards just like before.

Now we face the demise of the local school. We ultimately face entrusting the education of our children to people we do not know, people whom we have no voice in choosing.

And even worse they will be exposed to a curriculum over which we have no control.

Federal aid to anything is like a piece of juicy bait to a hungry fish.

It is simply delicious but it always has a hook in it.

Federal concern over qualifications for some created jobs is exemplified by what is happening right here in Randall County court house.

The county has been given a grant of $6,000 to hire a police records clerk for the sheriff's department.

The present clerk who has been on the job more than a decade, works week days and Saturdays, doubles as a jail matron and is an expert in the field draws only $425 a month.

But she is not qualified for the new federal job.

To qualify for the new position an applicant must have been out of work for the past 30 days at least.

Normally I am not a pessimist. There are so many things good and right about this country that it seems ungrateful and unpatriotic to criticize these glaring and dangerous flaws.

But when a republic rewards sloth and penalizes thrift and industry . . . loses its sense of values to the point it begins to believe good is evil and evil is good, then it is in grave danger.

Anyone who denies this has neglected to read history.

I am going to stick my neck out and make a political prediction.

Ralph Yarborough will run for Governor of Texas.

Here's a note to Bob Ashworth and Dee Walker, school superintendent and athletic director at Amarillo.

Last year I went to Amarillo to cover a game between Caprock and Canyon football teams. I had a press pass signed by my superintendent, Jerry Jacobs.

I was told at the gate that the pass was no good. I had to sweat out a line to buy a ticket to the game and missed four downs while I was doing it.

"No wonder Lubbock is bigger than Amarillo," Putt Powell declared when I told the people in the press box how I had been treated.

I called Ashworth about the incident and he was not only unsympathetic, he was rude.

I decided to let the matter drop but last week Canyon High School football scouts attending the Caprock-El Paso game were given the same treatment.

So Mr. Ashworth and Mr. Walker The Canyon News has made arrangements to pay YOUR way to the Caprock-Canyon game Friday night if you happen to experience any difficulty in getting into Buffalo Bowl for it.

We'd hate for visitors to Canyon to be treated as crudely at a ball game in Canyon as you treat folks who come to work your games.

Powerful politicians are determined to free society from Nature's restraints. But one of the paradoxes of freedom is that it is dependent on restraint. The only freedom the politicians have produced so far is freedom from incentive.

Every American, according to the politicians, is "entitled" to the best medical care, higher education, legal aid, a nice home, and a decent standard of living. These are all traditional American goals worthy of one's best efforts.

But what about people who deliberately create their own illness, are not educable, are incorrigible criminals,

Local Option Tabled By Commissioners

Randall County Commissioners officially tabled action on a local option election for Justice Precinct 3 Monday.

Umberger residents had presented the court petitions with the needed number of signatures calling for the election, but a new law passed by the 62nd Legislature stopped further action.

Criminal District Attorney George Dowlen told commissioners he would advise against calling the election until a written opinion from the Attorney General can be obtained.

Dowlen explained the new law prohibits a local option election in any political subdivision which not has existed for at least 18 months.

Court members instructed Judge Woody Pond to talk with City of Amarillo officials about utility work done by the city causing damage to county roads.

Commissioner John Fulgenzi said the city of Amarillo had run pipeline along 34th Street just west of the Amarillo City Limits which damaged two-inch caliche for about 200 yards.

Fulgenzi said commissioners should not accept the road until it was repaired to its original state.

"It was an all weather surface, but now it is not," he explained. "And I don't think we should accept it until it is all-weather again."

Commissioner Jim Fletcher said the county had to make repairs to the Osage Road after Amarillo city employees raised the level of manhole covers on the newly paved street.

"They did not patch the holes, and our crews had to do it," Fletcher noted.

Court asked Pond to request Amarillo city officials to contact county officials before future work is done along the roads.

Commissioners approved a 1971-72 tax roll which showed a $55,492.99 increase.

County Tax Assessor-Collector Audrey Bruse said the increase was due primarily to the addition of automobiles to the tax roll.

Total evaluation in 1971 is $60,981,560 compared to $55,657,863 for 1970. The county special was up from $33,978.99 to $38,879.53 a gain of $4,900.54; and the American would be considered wealthy by many nations' standards.

Our World

In every advanced civilization, the people vary in accumulated wealth in about the same proportion that they vary in ability and ambition. But as the productive grow affluent, many of the unproductive chafe in envy.

If the wealthy are responsible for poverty, are the healthy to blame for sickness?

Now does one eliminate a shadow?

Unproductive people will always be either poor or dependent. Dependence breeds hostility, and hostility breeds war. As long as hostility, greed, and envy exist, there will be dissension, riots, and war.

In the natural order of things, poor people have to work hard to provide their sustenance. Productive work is healthy; it generates pride and self respect, and keeps the worker out of mischief.

With over 12 million unemployed Americans, it is almost impossible to get good service in any area. Why should they do hard, dirty work when welfare pays better and is not taxable?

Should we condemn the individuals, or should we blame a society that disparages honest toil and rewards indolence?

Every civilization eventually reaps what it sows.

What is in store for a society that pays a woman more money for producing illegitimate children than she could earn as a public school teacher?

How many little "Mansons" are growing up in these unnatural, fatherless, taxpayer-supported homes?

If wanton women had to support their children, they would have neither the time nor the inclination to produce them.

God made all kinds of people with all kinds of abilities. It takes constant labor from all of them to keep the wheels of civilization turning. When any strata of society ceases to function, it weakens the whole structure.

The some 15 million Americans on the ever-burgeoning welfare rolls appear to have already lost all incentive to provide for themselves. How long before the dwindling ranks of the workers join them?

Then what?

The Bible has always guided people to planes of successful living. The State-never.

Why?

The Bible provides incentive; the State takes it away.

Joshua gave the recipe for the good life; it still works (Josh. 24:14-15).

Can one serve the Lord, and defraud his neighbor at the same time?

Bill Murray will get a second cash crop off this milo field.

Mr. Murray farms around 1,000 acres near Panhandle, Texas.

When he cuts his grain sorghum, he leaves the stalks high. Because those stalks keep making money for him until spring.

Mr. Murray's formula for extra profits? Stalks plus cattle plus T-E Liquid Feed Supplement.

Last year for example, he had 150 steers on the stalks for 150 days. They gained 225 lbs. or an average of 1.5 lbs. per head per day, on nothing but stalks and free-choice T-E Liquid Feed Supplement, consuming .4 lbs. of the supplement per head per day.

It added up to a nice profit, even though Mr. Murray explains, "They were out in bad snow storms for several days."

Mr. Murray buys his steers in August, keeps them on pasture until harvest, turns them in on the stalks and puts them on wheat pasture in the spring. He keeps T-E Liquid Feed Supplement in front of them the whole time; because he knows self-rationing T-E provides whatever supplement they need, whatever the grazing conditions.

Considering his experience with T-E Liquid Feed Supplement over the past few years, Mr. Murray concludes, "It seems to me a farmer has just got to run some cattle."

Mrs. Pierlé Retires After 35 Years

Mrs. Chester Pierle ended 35 years of service in the Canyon Public Library when she retired Sept. 1. She is being succeeded by Mrs. Ralph Huntington, whom she trained.

The library, which was established by the Woman's Book Club and the Sue Hite Club in 1936, had only one librarian before Mrs. Pierle.

Miss Fanny Malone, was the first and spent only a few months at the job. She was the sister of Miss Tennessee Malone, for many years librarian at West Texas State University.

Beginning with books the club women gave from their own collections and gathered up from their neighbors, the library has grown to about 15,500 volumes.

Lady Execs Plan Talk

Three women executives from Amarillo will present a panel on women in business to students of Business Administration class 475 at West Texas State University at 3 p.m. Wednesday.

They are Miss Gayle Pritchard, personnel coordinator at High Plains Baptist Hospital, Mrs. Dorris Rogers, personnel director of the First National Bank, and Mrs. Sharon Brown, a member of the women's division of the First National Bank.

The business administration class, taught by Dr. Zeke Marchant, will have a series of guest speakers, representing various business and professional fields in the Panhandle, each week this school year.

The series of speakers, relating their business experiences, was initiated two years ago by F.V. Wallace, chairman of the Council of Executive Consultants, which assists the university's School of Business.

First housed in a room in the courthouse, the library now occupies an old barracks building at 505 16th St.

Mrs. Pierle has made no special plans for her retirement, she said. "I'm just going to live here. I have no interest in going away from my house all alone."

Mrs. Pierle has two children, a son, Sam B. Burton, is an aeronautical engineer in Los Angeles. Her daughter, Mrs. Walter Polk, lives in Bartlesville, Okla. There are also five grandchildren.

Author Visits Canyon Woman

BY NELL WILLIAMS
Mrs. Edna Walker Chandler, whose fifty-first book will be published in November, has been visiting in Canyon this week as the guest of Mrs. A.K. Goodman, 2418 9th Ave.

The author of the popular "Cowboy Sam" books for children spoke to the Panhandle Penwomen at a Tuesday luncheon and to the Writers Association of the Golden Spread on Monday evening.

The new book is "Almost Brothers," and concerns the life of the Yaki Indians of the Southwest and Mexico and the Sioux Indians.

The 15 "Cowboy Sam" books written with a controlled vocabulary for early readers are being put out in new editions with "nice, bright new covers," said their author. The series is on school supplementary reading lists in a number of states.

Mrs. Chandler who lives in Placerville, Calif., has written one novel for adults, "Chaff in the Wind." It is a historical novel of the Iowa wheat country during the years from 1875 to 1930.

Her other books have ranged in subject matter from African children to skin-diving.

The author and her photographer-husband are regular contributors to a number of magazines. Many of their features are obtained while travelling in their camper.

Her talk to WAGS concerned "The Finished Product," detailing the work and disappointments behind a successful writer.

For the Penwomen, she discussed "Changing Trends in Writing, including publishing mergers, the turn toward self-help articles, and the foreign market.

Author Edna Walker Chandler displays the manuscript of her newest book to her hostess, Mrs. A.K. Goodman. Mrs. Goodman, who retired from third-grade teaching in the spring, is a devout advocate of the Chandler books for children.

"Spain" Characters Endure Bad Weather

Like the explorers of 1542 whom they personify, the players in "They Came From Spain" go on, regardless of the weather, unless there is heavy rain.

In spite of the cold and the disadvantages of Friday's storm, and the rain early Saturday which didn't leave much time for the stage to dry, the soldiers came from Spain on the stage Saturday evening. They had to walk through mud; the screen had to be brought in from a different place; the sound levels had to be adjusted for new cold temperatures and high humidity; some of the scenes had to be reblocked to avoid the worst of the sticky clay underfoot, but none of these obstacles stopped the show.

Like the "Texas" cast which has only missed ten performances in six years, the actors who tell the story of the Spaniards believe that the show must go on.

Though the audience was small, it consisted for the most part of those who had driven great distances to come. There has seldom been a greater feeling of unity between the cast and the patrons. Perhaps the overcoming of modern obstacles made the Spaniards' problems 400 years ago more real.

Since the Panhandle weather often changes in the late evening, the producers of the plays in the Canyon usually do not make their decisions to cancel or to play in bad weather until 7:30 or even 8:00 P.M. This causes little hardship, because unsettled weather brings such spectacular beauty to the Canyon — usually — that it is worth a drive to see it.

When a performance is cancelled, patrons may exchange their tickets for another night or obtain a refund by sending the tickets to Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or taking them to 2010 4th Avenue in Canyon, Texas. For further information and tickets call 806-655-2182.

WT Ag Department Receives Grant

The West Texas State University School of Agriculture announced today a $10,000 research grant to study diseased calves in commercial feed yards of the Texas Panhandle.

The grant was made by the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo Research Committee. The research will be undertaken by John W. McNeill, acting head of the school's Department of Animal Science.

McNeill said the "main problem confronting the cattle industry was developing an economic and effective regime for preventing and treating diseases of calves coming into the area."

He said the problem has been intensified because of competition for replacement cattle in the rapidly expanding feed yards.

"Prices have increased, and as a consequence, more stockmen have resorted to lighter weight calves to place on feed," he said. "Even though these lighter calves represent a cheaper per head investment, they demand more intensive management and disease control practices."

McNeill said changes in environment, shipping stress, dehydration and ration changes generally result in respiratory diseases. "Death losses are certainly a problem, but probably of greater economic concern is weight loss and reduced performance resulting from diseases," he said.

"We can't put a price tag on the loss. A majority of the cattle are affected to some degree."

In the beginning the research will seek preventive medicines to be used in the feed yards, he said, but "we would like to extend it to the producer's end."

McNeill said there are many drugs available for use on diseased animals but most drug companies test their products on healthy animals.

"The diseased animal is physiologically different from a healthy animal. This alteration of physiological processes may alter the absorption and distribution of the drugs used in treatment to such an extent that they are no longer as effective as claimed," McNeill said.

The university will obtain the calves to be used from the Central Cattle Co., a division of Mesa Agro, Inc., of Amarillo. The research will be carried out at the university's Nance Hereford Ranch.

McNeill said the grant came about after Don Jones, assistant manager of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, toured Panhandle feed yards and saw the problem.

The money will be used to purchase vaccine, feed, equipment and help cover undue death loss, McNeill said.

The study was initiated for one year, McNeill said, but "I hope funds will be renewed. I would like to see a minimum of three years for this research."

The experimental facility at the Nance Ranch is scaled to approximate commercial feed yards. About 500 head of cattle will be used.

Dr. John Coleman, veterinarian in charge of the diagnostic clinic at Texas A&M University's Bushland facility, will assist in the project.

"All information derived from the experiment would be subjected to routine analysis of variance to determine the statistical validity of the findings," McNeill said.

Eagle JV's Top Hereford

The Canyon Eagle junior varsity whipped the Hereford J.V.'s 25-8 last week.

Gary Bednorz scored two touchdowns on runs of 13 and two yards and was named offensive back of the week. He was called on eight times in the game to carry the ball and gained 46 yards rushing.

Defensively Bednorz was credited with 10 tackles.

Roy Begthel intercepted a Hereford pass and streaked 35 yards for a touchdown for the third Warbird score, while Terry Williams scored on a five yard plunge to ice the game away.

Defensive specialist Doug Day made five unassisted tackles and 12 assists to gain the defensive player of the week honors.

"Mike Hughes had a real fine night and made some outstanding blocks," according to J.V. coach Eric Roanhaus.

Hughes was named offensive lineman of the week.

Ed Lair quarterbacked the team to the win. He completed seven of 11 attempted passes for 106 yards.

"I am very pleased with the way the game went," Roanhaus said. "But we will have a tough game coming up this week."

The junior varsity will travel to Nazworth to battle their junior varsity. They sport a 2-0 record.

DA Member To Penal Committee

Randall County Criminal District Attorney George Dowlen is a member of a nine-man committee which will suggest changes to a proposed Texas penal code defeated by the last session of the Legislature.

Dowlen said the committee will have open meetings throughout the state in the next six months reviewing the code and making proposed changes before the Legislature takes further action.

"We are meeting to work on changes essential to protect people's interest in criminal law," he explained.

He noted that many changes that were proposed in April of last year were acceptable to the legislative committee that proposed the penal code.

"Because the proposed penal code was written under a veil of secrecy we have taken steps to make all committee meetings open to the public and the press," Dowlen stressed.

The CYO of St. Mary's Parish held its annual election recently. Heading the young people's group this year will be Dwight Brandt. Other officers are Patricia Batenhorst, Vice-President; Elaine Ramaekers, Secretary; Patricia Grabber, Treasurer; and Randy Wiek, Sergeant-at-arms.

The CYO will present a tal-

Eight clubs from Amarillo visited the Pistols and Petticoats Square Dancing club Sunday night at its regular session. Levis and Lace and Chiefs and Squaws from Amarillo represented the greater number of dancers.

Twenty students are taking square dancing lessons from Herrick Allen, club caller, prior to the club dance. This is the third set of instructions since the club began about a year ago.

Troy Skarke, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Skarke, had a never-to-be-forgotten experience last week. While Troy and his brother Chris were picking up irrigation tubes, they upset a snake who began immediately striking out. Chris tried to kill the snake. The Skarkes found it had bitten Troy, so Mother Shirley,

Troy, and the snake drove to town. Troy was treated at the hospital with a tetanus shot. Later, Paul Ferguson at Buffalo Lake Refuge identified the snake as non-poisonous since it had round eyes, not slanted. (I've never looked a snake in the eye and hope I never have to.)

Fair days are here and many a resident is trekking to Amarillo to view the booths and ride on the midway. Of special interest this year are the thousand horses that have been entered in competition at the Bill Cody arena.

The Arabian horses are competing for the first time; they are beautiful animals. The stands have been full as the colorful judging continues throughout the week.

News is short this week; it isn't true that no news is good news. So if you decide to rob a bank or inherit a million dollars, I'd appreciate being told about it.

right out, didn't have that kind of money," he noted.

But today, the old equipment, cared for and used through the years, stands next to the new—shining with bright paint.

And outside the high-ceiling structure are machines Bracht has made, designed and now sells.

In the tree-shaded yard stands a cultivator that he makes and sells to area farmers. In the corner of his property stands a clothes line-looking pole that is called a cattle oiler.

"The ideas for most of my machines come for the farmers," Bracht credits.

The cattle oiler is designed so a cow can rub it, tugging it just a little, and oil drips down the line covering the animal with the fly-repellent solution.

will give substantial amounts of subsoil moisture to the ground.

"This will add greatly to the wheat situation," he commented.

Brazzil had called the moisture received last week as "significant", and explained the fall and winter small grain crops that had been planted in August prospered from that rain.

"Prospects for our wheat pastures are much improved because of the moisture," he said.

And Brazzil predicted the grazing prospects to be enhanced because of the rain.

Walter Graham said early Tuesday evening that range grass stood knee high at his ranch southwest of Canyon.

"It looks good out there," Graham said.

Chapter Starts New Season

Chi Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its first meeting of the season recently at the Girl Scout House.

The group discussed ways and means projects for the year which will include a just-a-note sale in December, a spring volleyball tournament, and Beta Sigma Phi cookbook sales. This year's edition is titled "Holiday Cooking."

Service projects are the International Endowment Fund, the International Loan Fund, the state-project, the Girl Scouts of Canyon, a scholarship fund for a Canyon High School senior girl, and the sponsoring of a girl from a children's home in Amarillo.

Mrs. Melvin Tucek and Mrs. Meade Michael were hostesses.

Mrs. Guy Hamblen won the door prize.

the passing and the trap.

"(Mike) Podzemny has got a great pair of hands and has made some fine clutch catches this season," Basinger continued.

"(Fred) Groana—he is such a dang big target and Wright has very good passing arm."

Basinger went on saying that the Eagles will "kind of lull you to sleep" with several traps and then sting you with an option or "lull you sleep with one type play and then sting with another." They have a dangerous offense," he added.

Both the Warbirds and the 'Horns are coming off two consecutive wins. The Eagles squeaked by Clovis 15-14 in the closing minutes of their opener and then clipped Spearman, 6-0, in ankle-deep mud last week.

"The Longhorns will probably run a 4-4 stack and a 4-3 defense against us. I think that they have an above average defense, but it is not particularly outstanding," Mills commented.

"The Eagles were known last year for their tough defensive team and I really can't see where they are any weaker this year," Basinger said.

"They set their defensive backs so close to the line on some plays it looks as though they are running an eight or nine man line. That can make it hard on our running plays," Basinger said.

Mills said that to win the Eagles will probably have to score several times and will probably have to put the ball in the air. "I feel like we can throw against most ball clubs," he said. "If we have a good dry field.

Eagle Boosters Laud Top Four Eagle Gridders

Gary Gerber, David Wilkerson, Larry Prichard and Cliff Prichard were honored at the Canyon Booster Club meeting Tuesday night, by head Coach Ron Mills.

Gerber, who was credited with several unassisted and assisted tackles in the Eagles tilt with Spearman Friday night was named defensive backfield player of the week.

Wilkerson, who made a 96 per cent grade on his performance Friday night was named defensive lineman of the week. He made the highest lineman grade of the week and saved a touchdown Friday by making a tackle on the one yard line.

Larry Prichard has graded above 90 per cent every week this season, according to coach Phil Ehly, and was named offensive lineman of the week. "Larry is a real consistent blocker and made some outstanding guard trap blocks against Spearman," Ehly said.

Cliff Prichard graded 96 per cent at the fullback slot Friday Mills said. "Cliff is gaining confidence in himself and is playing better each game. We plan to use him more and more every game," Mills added.

Cliff Prichard carried the ball 86 yards in 15 carries against the Lynx.

Mills showed first half film of the Spearman game. He praised the efforts of halfback Matt Hanson and senior tackle Randall Smith. He said that Smith has not graded below 90 per cent in the two games this year.

President Jim Curtis urged the crowd to help increase the attendance of the booster Club meetings and called for all members to continue the membership drive.

The next meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the high school cafeteria. All interested persons are urged to attend.

addressed faculty and students Wednesday.

The prominent educator met with the committee members at Thursday at which time evaluation and guidance of the study conducted so far was discussed.

Gould was chancellor of the giant State University of New York from 1964 until early this year when he became head of the national Commission on No-Traditional Study established by the College Entrance Examination Board and the Education Testing Service of New York.

The Carnegie Corp. gave a $140,000 grant to finance the commission's activities over the next two years.

In appointing the membership of the panel earlier this year, Gould said "the urgent need for more flexibility and diverse patterns of learning in higher education is well documented, and that the time for action is now. The goal of our commission is to make sure it takes place."

With degrees from Bates College and New York University and post-graduate work at Oxford and Cambridge universities in England and Harvard University, Gould worked at radio stations in Providence, R.I., and Hartford, Conn., and was a high school teacher for six years.

From 1947-50 he was professor of radio and speech at Boston University and was assistant to the president there for the next three years.

Gould was president of Antioch College (Ohio) from 1954-59, chancellor of the University of California at Santa Barbara from 1959-62 and president of the Educational Broadcasting Corp. until 1964 when he became chancellor of the SUNY.

He was the subject of a cover story by Time Magazine

Umberson Plans In-Depth Study

The chairman of the Music Department at West Texas State University will be among five Texas educators to undertake an in-depth study of music teacher-training at a meeting Saturday in Dallas.

Dr. George Umberson, WTSU Music Department head since last year, was selected by J.R. McEntyre, president of the Texas Music Educators Association, to participate on a TMBA-sponsored committee to explore various possibilities in strengthening college teacher-training in Texas and adjacent states.

Other named to the committee were Robert Bayes, chairman of music at the University of Texas at Arlington, Joe Frank of the Southern Methodist University music faculty, Robert Vezzetti, music director of Brownsville High School, and Dr. David McGuire, committee chairman and coordinator of graduate music education at North Texas State University.

Umberson is widely known in the area as a clinician, adjudicator and speaker.

State law prohibits governmental bodies from carrying property damage insurance.

Trustees also approved new free lunch policies.

Student visitors were asked to recommend to the board what action could be taken to self-regulate dances that are being held at the County Barn.

"We have problems there," Board President Dudley Moore declared. "And I would like your suggestions as to what can be done to correct the situation. I think you should handle it without regulations."

Miss Moira Black, the maid of honor wore a gown of maroon chiffon with long puffed sleeves of sheer chiffon. Her bouquet was of maroon and pink mums with matching streamers. A headdress of gathered tulle was attached to a flat bow.

The bridesmaids were Miss Sherri Springstube, Miss Patty Patterson, and Miss Leigh Ann Leard. Their pink chiffon dresses were styled like that of the maid of honor and they also carried maroon and pink chrysanthemums.

The flower girl was Miss Carla Polvado. She wore a maroon dress which matched that of the other attendants and carried a basket of white rose petals.

Joe Brewton was Holland's best man. Groomsman were Phil Holland, the brother of the groom, Rick Siewert and David Moore.

Gene Vaughn Morrison and Travis Dean were ushers.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was dressed in a full-length gown with a white lace bodice ending in an empire waist. The chiffon sleeves were cuffed with wide bands of lace. The skirt was also of chiffon. The full-length veil formed a lace-trimmed train. Her bouquet was of white carnations and stephanotis with ivy.

A reception followed in the church's Fellowship Hall. In the houseparty were Miss Crystal McCurry and Miss Suzanne Brown, of Amarillo, and three cousins of the bride, Miss Robin Henly of Fort Worth and Misses Valeri and Vicki Ragsdale of Austin.

Swans divided the three tiers of the wedding cake, which was topped with bells.

Rev. Bill Foil, pastor of First Baptist Church, conducted the service before an altar ornamented with white chrysanthemums and stephanotis and candelabra.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a long taffeta gown trimmed in Venise lace. The bodice was made with a wedding band neckline. The band and the cuffs of the long puffed sleeves were applied in the lace. The A-line skirt fell from an Empire waistline. Venise lace appliques followed the princess lines and trellised down the gown's front from neckline to hem. Appliques of the lace followed the train of the gown and a sash bow finished the waistline in the back.

The bridal party consisted of Miss Nicci Johnston, the sister of the bride, maid of honor; Miss Prissy Richardson, bridesmaid; Miss Dede Johnston, sister of the bride and Miss Deltie Byrd, cousin of the bride, candlelighters.

Three Tell Club About Homelands

Three students from other countries appeared in native costume at a recent meeting of the Woman's Book Club in the parlor of First United Methodist Church.

Miss Kamala Tiyanich of Thailand, Miss Rhona DeLeon of the Philippines, and Masood of Pakistan spoke on life in their homelands.

Miss DeLeon said that life in the Philippines is much like life in the United States, except that it is more crowded.

Manila has seven television channels and several newspapers, including two written in Spanish and two in Chinese.

A total of 186 dialects are spoken in the Philippines, she said.

Miss Tiyanich said that in Thailand everyone lives outdoors during the day because of the heat. Because they do not rush, Thais have an easier life than Americans, she believes.

In their intricate language, the meaning of a word is often determined by the placing of the accent.

Sugar cane, peanuts, eggs, teakwood, charcoal and rice are the main products of a population in which 80 per cent of the people are farmers.

Masood told the women that progress in Pakistan is curtailed by a language handicap in a country where seven different languages are spoken.

To marry, it is almost a must for a girl to be a dancer and a musician, he said. Marriages are arranged by the parents, and the country's divorce rate is the lowest in the world.

Series Is Planned

"Current Issues of Concern to Christians" is the title of a five-part study to be conducted during October at First United Methodist Church.

"Mental Health" will be discussed by Dr. Louis Fairchild of the Psychology Department and J.B. Brannen, executive director of Family Service of Amarillo, on Oct. 17. Rev. Baldwin J. Stribling, pastor of First Presbyterian Church will give the meditation.

"Abortion" will be the subject on Oct. 24. A meditation by Dr. Marian A. Guidry, professor of biology and chemistry at WTSU, will be followed by a discussion by Dr. Leta N. Boswell, Jim B. Brown, and Rev. Jim Bethell of the Episcopal University Center.

MVC Honors Pritchett

West Texas State sophomore halfback speed merchant Billy Pritchett has been named the Buffalo and the Missouri Valley Conference player-of-the-week, head Buff coach Gene Mayfield told a Buff Booster Club gathering Monday night.

Pritchett, 6-3, 230-pounds, carried the ball 219 yards in 32 attempts in the Buff's 14-6 win over Lamar University, Saturday.

It was the second week in a row that Pritchett copped the team award, as he won it the previous week for his performance against Memphis State.

Pritchett is the leading ground gainer in the MVC with a two-week total of 305 yards. He also leads the total offense chart in the MVC.

"Billy is still learning with each practice and each game," said Mayfield at the Buff Booster Club meeting. "Anytime a player has a 200-plus effort in yardage, he has done some things right."

A somewhat dazed offensive backfield coach Jim "Corky" Dawson shook his head after watching the game film and said, "If Billy had hit all the holes we had opened up for him during the game he would have gained 300 yards instead of 200."

In that game Pritchett ran for 16 yards and a touchdown in the third quarter to tie the score. Later in the tilt he ran for 70 yards and another score, which put the lid on the victory for the Buffs.

Also at that meeting safety Mike Hrcir was named the winner of the "Big Kuhuna" award which goes to the top defensive player of the week.

Hrcir intercepted a Lamar pass, in the tilt had returned it two yards. He was also responsible for knocking down three other Cardinal aerials.

One of the team's top tacklers, Hrcir has made six tackles and has been credited with 13 assists.

Mayfield cited one problem as the backs not hitting their holes and the line not giving Holwig enough protection.

"We need to get our offense so that they can run a play in the same manner with the same timing every time we run it," Mayfield added.

Buff left end Thomas Tate, who suffered strained ligaments in his right knee during the game, is expected to return in about two weeks according to Mayfield.

Members of the club viewed the Saturday game film and held a short meeting before dismissing.

The Buffs will take a breather this week with an open date, before they battle Tulsa Oct. 2 in Buffalo Bowl.

FLASH..... DOUBLE

FLASH.....Here's an all-time first. The Canyon school system is going to have a bona fide tennis program. And, big congratulations are in order to those who have seen fit to get the program off the ground...Jerry Jacobs, Coach Dunny Goode, and Coach V. J. Duncan, who will be the official instructor. So, you mommies and daddys who have little darlings who have been wanting to learn how to play, here is your chance. Coach Duncan will instruct any student in the Canyon system who is in the 7th through the 12th grades. All you need to do is make provisions for your little darling to get from his/her respective school, when school is out on Tuesday and Thursday, over to the West Texas State University Tennis Courts. The instruction will probably last until around 5:pm on those two days. So, let's all get behind the program and thanks to those people involved and also to WTSU for the continued use of their lovely facility.

Happy Birthday to Donna Storlie.

That John and Betty Dozier have just returned from another lovely trip.

This time they jetted over to Curacao, which is off the Coast of Venezuela in the Netherlands-Antilles Islands, for several days of fun and games. There were 50 couples who went along from all over the U.S. and, Betty and John went to Memphis, Tennessee for the dealers and boat show. Betty said they really had a great time and were ready to go back.

Congratulations are in order to Dale and Barbara Young on the arrival of little David Scott Young who has come to live with the Youngs.

Welcome home from the hospital to Mrs. Toby (Elsie) Campsey. Elsie, we hope you are soon fit as a fiddle.

Have y'all been out to the Fair? Be sure and go by the Art Exhibits and see the paintings done by some of our Gene Howe area people, Mrs. James (Doris) Nash, Mrs. Lawrence (Joan) Taylor, and Devery Dampf. real good, real good.

Talked to the President of the Gene Howe P.T.A., Mrs. Guy (Troyce) Mulherin, and she informs me the first P.T.A. meeting of the year will be October 4 and October 11. These will be "Back to School" nites for the parents. All first through the third grade parents should attend on Oct. 4, and all fourth through the sixth on Oct. 11. This is a good chance for you to meet your chiluns' respective teachers, so you just mark these dates on the calendar and plan to motor right up to Gene Howe and get the first meetings off to a BANG....By the bye, have you joined the P.T.A. yet????? Understand they have a contest going and the winners get banana splits. So, if you haven't yet, now is the time. The contest is over after Oct. 11, but of course you could join at anytime.

Speaking of Troyce, and we were at the onset of the part about the P.T.A.....she was elected "Sweetheart" of her Sorority Chapter, Alpha Delta Rho. Congrats, Troyce, we already knew you were a "Sweetheart" and that just makes it official. I thought this was just great, but ole modest Troyce says that just shows what dire straits they were in.

Our sympathy and love is extended to Melissa Engle in the death of her husband and our friend, Tom. So many in the Gene Howe area knew Tom and we shall certainly feel his loss keenly.

Big congratulations to the Gene Howe Falcons (5th grade). Understand they beat Highland Park in football 13-0.

Y'all phone me your news - 376-9553 or 352-2089.

WE STOCK BOTH FAST AND SLOW SELLERS

Recent news stories told how supermarkets and discount firms are telling manufacturers: "Sell us only your fast sellers. We are weeding out all others." Their reason is that the small amounts sold of slow sellers are not profitable.

This is true, but sometimes slow selling products can be very important to the persons who need them. There are hundreds of them in our pharmacy that sell only about a dozen of each a year. We buy only a quarter of a dozen at a time and re-order when they are sold. Our reputation is to have whatever you ask for. If we don't have your favorite, tell us.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

For the price of a new Skylark 350 you can own a Buick.

You'll find Buick's Skylark in a price class you're very used to. But with a lot of things that might be very new to you.

Like Buick comfort. The rich cloth seats standard in our new Skylark 350. Thick carpeting. Even a deluxe steering wheel.

And the Buick ride. Smooth and quiet. Plus Buick engineering and performance. A standard 350-cubic-inch V8 that's responsive, yet economical. With Buick technical advances like nickel-plated engine exhaust valves and a semi-closed cooling system.

This year, perhaps more than ever before, you ought to consider getting all this Buick-ness. Especially when you can get it Skylark-priced.

1972 Buick Skylark. Something to believe in.
